

GNWT Substitute Teacher Information

Updated: August 17, 2022

Welcome to substitute teaching and the Northwest Territories Teachers' Association! While you are substitute teaching, 1.5 percent of your substitute teacher pay goes to NWTTA dues. Therefore, you are represented by the NWTTA during the days you substitute teach.

The NWTTA believes in having an informed membership. As a substitute teacher, you are entitled to certain rights and responsibilities as outlined in the current GNWT-NWTTA Collective Agreement. You are encouraged to read this document available at <https://nwttanw.ca/publications/collective-agreements>

Labour Relations and Legal Assistance

The NWTTA may represent or assist you when dealing with employer problems, working conditions or legal matters. The NWTTA interprets the Collective Agreement for its members. If there are concerns, please read Article 20 in the Collective Agreement regarding grievance procedures or contact the NWTTA Central Office at 867-873- 8501 or membership@nwttanw.ca

Protecting Yourself Against False Allegations

Across the country and the NWT there is an increase in teachers dealing with false allegations. In 99.9% of these cases, the allegations are proven to be false, but not before the teacher is put through great stress and, in some cases, leaves the profession altogether. Cautious, professional conduct is the best prevention.

- Avoid touching students when reprimanding or disciplining them.
- Avoid meeting with students outside of school.
- Avoid driving students in your personal vehicle. Don't drive students home. If absolutely necessary, have students sit in the back seat and drop off high-risk students first.
- Do NOT email students. Once the email message leaves your computer you no longer have any control over its contents and your address is no longer private.
- Avoid mixing socially with students, particularly if alcohol is involved. Teachers should never drink with students. Be aware that a number of high school students may be of legal drinking age and be in public recreational areas with you. You may be at community gatherings where underage students are in attendance.
- Never date students, even adult students.
- Avoid keeping a student alone in the classroom for long periods of time after dismissal. Always have students phone home if they are to stay after school.
- Do NOT cover the windows of your classroom door. If your door has no windows, leave it open.
- Avoid situations where you are alone with a particular student. Teachers should make it their habit to visit each other's rooms frequently. It is important to have the perception that your classroom is an "open" environment.
- Students should never be invited home nor should a teacher ever go home with a student. Suggestions include having a credible adult witness, having students visit in small groups, having clear expectations of when visits are appropriate.
- Avoid physical demonstrations of concern, such as hugs, unless in public view of colleagues or other students. Physical contact should be initiated by students only and should occur in the presence of other adults or students.

If you are accused of assault or other criminal offense related to your substitute teaching, please follow this process:

1. Call NWTTA Central Office immediately at 867-873-8501.
2. If President Matthew Miller, Executive Director David Murphy or Assistant Executive Director Sara McCrea are not available, or If this occurs after office hours, call Matthew (867-678-5968), David (867-444-0253) or Sara (867-688-7643) on their mobile phone and leave a message if they don't answer.
 - The RCMP are NOT your advocates. Their responsibility is to investigate the complaint. Do not speak prior to obtaining counsel.
 - Do not submit a written statement to the Principal or anyone else until you have first cleared it with a lawyer.
 - Record immediately the circumstances of the incident and continue to document all matters relevant to the matter.
 - Do not speak of the matter with anyone, especially the student and/or family, except NWTTA Central Office and our legal counsel.
 - Have courage; it may be a long process.

If you are assaulted or abused while substitute teaching:

- Inform the Principal/office staff right away.
- Document the incident as much as possible.
- Complete an NWTTA Incident Report—available on the front page of nwttta.nt.ca
- Report situation to the RCMP—lay charges if necessary.
- Complete a WSCC Worker's Injury Report if appropriate
