FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Does Professional Development money come from NWTTA dues?

- No, Professional Development money is a negotiated item under the GNWT NWTTA Collective Agreement. It is 2.25% of the combined gross basic salary of all GNWT NWTTA members.

Can I leave the NWT to do my personal Professional Development activity?

- Certainly. A number of NWTTA members regularly attend conferences in southern Canada for their Professional Development.
- Your maximum allotment is unlikely to cover all of the expenses associated with going to a conference in southern Canada.
- Travel for Professional Development outside Canada requires the approval of the Minister of Education, Culture and Employment.¹⁷

I have been hired as a brand-new principal and am not yet an NWTTA member, I would like to attend ELP. Can my employer cover my expenses up front?

The CPDC requests that the hiring District Education Council (employer) reimburse the newly hired principal for eligible expenses (up to the maximum of $2,500.00). The NWTTA PD office will then reimburse the DEC after September 1st of the same year, when the newly hired principal becomes a member of the NWTTA.

I am from Ontario and want to build up my Ontario Teaching Qualifications. Can I enroll in an AQ course?

It depends on the university and whether they will provide you with proof of credits taken. It is case by case so you have to investigate carefully. Some universities will provide the letter. Queens, Trent, and some other universities have the information right on their websites, other universities, including OISE, are clear that they will not provide any such letter. You need to do your research beforehand. Please contact the PDC if you have questions.

It has been suggested to me that I can go on the land as a 'Professional Development activity. Are there limitations to this?

Certainly. A number of NWTTA members regularly become involved with On the Land Activities especially when they are new to the NWT. Some limitations are that a member cannot purchase hard capital items and that the activity is a well-planned one with clear learning objectives. Please review your RPDC Policy for criteria, responsibilities, and other limitations in your region.
